9 1. Conducting an analysis of the current early childhood
10 delivery system in Oklahoma and how it is financed with specific 11 focus on gaps, inefficiencies, and redundancies. This work should 12 focus on how creating a new governance structure for early childhood 13 services could overcome these challenges and improve how care is 14 delivered, accessed, and funded. This analysis must specifically 15 include:

16 a. a review of current early childhood programs and 17 policies dispersed between the Department of Human 18 Services, State Department of Health, Department of 19 Mental Health and Substance Abuse Services, Oklahoma
20 Department of Commerce, Oklahoma Health Care
21 Authority, and State Department of Education. The 22 review should pay special attention to where current 23 statutory authority over certain operations exists and 24 where possible areas of redundancy occur,

- b. a review of how current funding systems blend and various funding opportunities, with special attention as to how funding streams are currently utilized for early childhood programs that are housed across departments. This fiscal review should map the routes all private, public, federal, and state funding streams take from funding authority to program application,
- c. a review of how Oklahoma might integrate existing programming into a consolidated delivery system and what needs might exist for new programming that the state currently lacks,
- d. recommendations on how cross-agency collaboration and partnerships can be fostered to develop a whole-of-government approach to strengthening the delivery of early childhood services, specifically ensuring that data infrastructure is integrated across agencies, accounts for both qualitative and quantitative methods, and can be widely utilized by multiple state agencies,
- e. recommendations on how a new governance structure might maximize efficiencies for early childhood providers and their workforce. This work should determine how licensing, workforce development and

1 support, and facility review can be improved to 2 eliminate barriers to entry for providers and 3 professionals. This should also include a review of 4 current regulatory structures that complicate the 5 process of entering the early childhood sector,

- 6 f. recommendations on how a new governance structure can 7 strengthen the existing health care workforce to 8 better support the development of young children and 9 well-being of mothers through improved access to 10 comprehensive and preventive care. This should also 11 include a review of how to secure improved health 12 outcomes for children, financial sustainability of 13 delivery models, and robust workforce pipelines, and
- 14 g. an analysis of key lessons learned from states already 15 advancing consolidated systems of early childhood
16 governance to inform Oklahoma's own process;

17 2. Conducting a series of stakeholder engagement opportunities
18 to elicit feedback on the current early childhood governance
19 structure and better understand the needs of parents, families,
20 providers, and businesses;

21 3. Following the engagement of stakeholders, conducting a
22 review that synthesizes feedback received from families, providers, 23 community leaders, and the business sector. This review shall 24 include recommendations on how the state delivery system and

1 governance model can be improved to respond to family and community
2 needs. It shall also include recommendations for how the state can 3 better engage with parents, families, and communities on a regular 4 basis to ensure family voice is centered in the work of state
5 agencies;

6 4. Drafting a proposed transition plan to ensure the continuous
7 operation of state services upon the creation of a new governance
8 structure for early childhood. This plan shall:

- 9 a. include detailed recommendations for what programs and 10 services should remain in their current place or 11 transition into a new governance structure. Each 12 recommendation shall consider the challenges and 13 benefits of moving programs,
- 14 b. focus on movement between agencies and how 15 collaboration can be strengthened with nonexecutive
16 agencies. It shall also include recommendations for 17 any necessary interagency agreements,
- 18 c. include a review of what additional funding, if any,
19 and resources, if any, might be needed to transition
20 to a new governance structure effectively and 21 efficiently, and
- 22 d. provide recommended goals and metrics for the new 23 entity to strive toward once operational; and 24

5. Drafting proposed legislation that creates a new governance structure that oversees Oklahoma's early childhood education and care programs.

SECTION 2. This act shall become effective November 1, 2026."
